

A Book Report

*The author has asked you to illustrate the new cover page of the book.
Submit your drawing to the author.*

A large, empty rectangular box with a double-line border and slightly rounded corners, intended for the student to draw a new book cover.

Explain the link between your drawing and the story.

A series of horizontal lines for writing, starting below the instruction and extending across the width of the page.